You can contact the show by emailing 3breakfast@bbc.co.uk. To listen on most smart speakers, just say 'Ask BBC Sounds to play 3 Breakfast'. SAT 09:00 Saturday Morning (m0030971) Tom Service with a transatlantic trio of guests Tom Service provides the ideal soundtrack for Saturday morning, with the best classical music, in new and landmark recordings, and one or two surprise guests introducing their own releases. Three artists from across the pond join Tom this morning. Soprano Angel Blue is performing at the BBC Proms this weekend with Chineke! Orchestra, and takes time out of her schedule to tell Tom her current plans and passions. Canadian pianist Bruce Liu plays in the studio: music from his new album Lunarix, which is inspired by moonlight. And in The Creators, American composer Joan Tower considers her game-changing Fanfares for the Uncommon Woman, which are forty years old this year, and also feature in the BBC Proms. SAT 12:00 Earlier... with Jools Holland (m0030975) Jools meets Lucy Worsley Jools shares his lifelong passion for classical music and the beautiful connections with jazz and blues. With fascinating guests each week, who bring their own favourite music and occasionally perform live in Jools's studio. Today, Jools's choices include music by Jan Dismas Zelenka, Beethoven and Dobrinka Tabakova, with performances by pianist Wilhelm Kempff, Sphinx Virtuosi and Frankie Lee Sim. His guest is historian, author and broadcaster Lucy Worsley, who introduces music she loves by Byrd, Verdi, Liszt and the Glenn Miller Band. To listen on most smart speakers, just say "Ask BBC Sounds to play Earlier with Jools Holland". SAT 13:00 Key Changes: Radio 3's Essential History of Classical Music (m0030979) 1808: Yes, we will have a pianoforte	1808, Hampshire. As Jane Austen prepares to move into her new home at Chawton, she makes plans for one important purchase: a pianoforte. Once a luxury reserved for courts and aristocratic households, the piano is becoming affordable to a growing middle class, transforming how people encounter and make music in their everyday lives. In drawing rooms across Europe, families gather around the instrument to sing, dance, accompany one another and play arrangements of the latest operas and orchestral works. New piano manufacturers, publishers and performers help create a thriving musical economy, while composers such as John Field and Schubert write works intended for music-making in the home. The piano also opens new opportunities for women musicians. From Jane Austen's daily practice at the keyboard to the musical salons of Fanny Mendelssohn and the concert career of Amy Beach, access to the instrument helps create new spaces for creativity, performance and composition. Gillian Moore is joined by a roster of distinguished historians for this major new BBC Radio 3 series, charting a course through 1000 years of classical music history. For the next eight programmes, historian Simon Schama is in the chair, as together they explore the rich musical world of the Classical era. SAT 16:00 Sound of Cinema (m003097f)

Shaken Not Stirred

As the BBC Proms celebrates the music of James Bond in Bond and Beyond, Edith explores the trademark sound of 007.

Edith will be talking to composer David Arnold, who's scored five Bond films, including Tomorrow Never Dies, Casino Royale, and Quantum of Solace, about his work on the franchise and the enduring musical legacy of the world's most famous secret agent. And in our weekly feature Harmonising Hollywood, composer Richard Niles takes a closer look at the music of the Bond movies, examining how their music helped establish the trademark Bond sound that continues to influence film today.

SAT 17:00 This Classical Life (m003097h)

Jess Gillam with... Colin Currie

Jess Gillam is joined by Scottish percussionist and conductor Colin Currie for a listening party, sharing some of their favourite pieces of music.

Perhaps best known for championing the work of Steve Reich, Colin brings along tracks by some of his other musical heroes - including Steve Martland, Joy Division, and H K Gruber. In exchange, Jess shares music by two virtuoso performer composers - Polish violinist Grażyna Bacewicz and the Austrian-Italian lutenist Giovanni Girolamo Kapsperger.

SAT 18:00 Music Planet (m003097k)

Nora Brown and Stephanie Coleman in session

Kathryn Tickell welcomes American musicians Nora Brown on banjo and voice, and Stephanie Coleman on fiddle and voice, to the Music Planet studio to perform songs from their deep and varied repertoire. A vital figure on New York City's tight-knit old-time music scene, Brown began playing with Coleman at the age of 12 before establishing herself as one of the leading voices of a new generation of artists reinterpreting classic tunes from the Appalachian tradition. Elsewhere in the show, a selection of the best new roots-based music from across the globe.

Produced by Gabriel Francis and Silvia Malnati
A Reduced Listening production for BBC Radio 3.

SAT 19:00 New Generation Artists (m003097m)

2026 Proms season showcase - Andrew Hamilton and the Kleio Quartet

Georgia Mann introduces specially recorded performances from some of Radio 3's current New Generation Artists. Andrew Hamilton joins the Kleio Quartet at this year's Norfolk and Norwich Festival in Samuel Barber's hauntingly beautiful setting of Matthew Arnold's meditative poem on the themes of human isolation and a retreating "sea of faith". Also today, the cellist Sterling Elliott plays an arrangement of one of the Meditations from Leonard Bernstein's Mass, the Ukrainian clarinetist Oleg Shebeta-Dragan plays a beautiful Romance from his homeland, and Emma Rawicz presents her Imagined Idyll, a piece which, she says, 'always evokes a sense of nostalgia for me, and a feeling of unattainable completeness.'

Barber: Dover Beach
Andrew Hamilton (baritone), Kleio Quartet

Bernstein: Meditation from Mass
Sterling Elliott (cello), Joseph Havlat (piano)

Emma Rawicz: Imagined Idyll
Emma Rawicz (tenor sax) with Rasmus Sørensen (piano), David Preston (electric guitar), Freddie Jensen (bass) and Marc Michel (drums)

Lyudmyla Shukaylo: Romance
Oleg Shebeta-Dragan (clarinet), Dominic Degavino (piano)

For over a quarter of a century, Radio 3's prestigious talent scheme has provided an invaluable springboard for many of today's leading international soloists and chamber music ensembles. Indeed, a list of the former alumni reads like a Who's Who of the international music scene with names like Lisa Batiashvili, Igor Levit, Sean Shibe, Alison Balsom, Anastasia Kobekina and the Belcea Quartet.

SAT 19:30 BBC Proms (m003097p)

Chineke! Orchestra with Angel Blue

Live at the BBC Proms: Chineke! Orchestra conducted by Jonathon Heyward with soprano Angel Blue in a programme including Barber and Dvorak

Presented by Katie Derham, live from the Royal Albert Hall, London.

Edmund Thornton Jenkins: Dance Suite (reconstr. & arr. Tuffus Zimbabwe; world premiere)
Samuel Barber: Knoxville: Summer of 1915
George Gershwin, arr. Anthony Parnter 'Our love is here to stay'
Harold Arlen, arr. Anthony Parnter 'That Old Black Magic'
Richard Rogers, arr. Anthony Parnter 'My Funny Valentine'
Irving Berlin, arr. Anthony Parnter 'Puttin' on the ritz'

c.8.00pm

Interval: Alisha Jones talks to Katie Derham about the enduring power of the Great American Songbook: influential songs written between the 1920s and 1960s for Broadway musicals, Hollywood films, and Tin Pan Alley, the heart of New York City's songwriting industry. And she looks ahead to Dvorak's optimistic 8th Symphony, which draws on Bohemian folk music.

c.8.20pm

Antonín Dvořák: Symphony No. 8 in G major

Angel Blue (soprano)
Chineke! Orchestra
Jonathon Heyward (conductor)

Europe's first majority-Black and ethnically diverse orchestra Chineke! is back. It opens with the premiere of a suite drawn from music for a ballet left incomplete by the South Carolina-born Edmund Thornton Jenkins, who died aged only 32. American soprano Angel Blue sings Samuel Barber's Knoxville: Summer of 1915 – a child's all-encompassing vision of life in a teeming urban centre – as well as new arrangements of songs by some of 20th-century America's greatest tunesmiths. After the interval we swap cities for forests and fields in the ecstatic nature hymn that is Dvořák's Symphony No. 8.

SAT 21:45 Talking Music (m003097r)
Sir Antonio Pappano

Kate Molleson presents a new series of in-depth conversations with artists appearing at the BBC Proms, creating space for thoughtful reflection on their musical lives and creative work.

Today, Kate talks to conductor Sir Antonio Pappano. One of the most admired musicians of his generation, he reflects on the experiences, influences and relationships that have shaped his life in music, from his early years as a pianist and répétiteur to an international career on the concert and opera stage.

Together, they explore his approach to performance, the special relationship between conductor and orchestra, and the passion, curiosity and musical instinct that continue to drive his work.

SAT 22:30 New Music Show (m003097t)
New Music in Armenia

An exploration of new music from Armenia. We hear from composers and directors of the Assonance Ensemble, Aram Hovhannisyan and Sergey Umroyan, as well as vocalist and a director of the Notations Festival in Yerevan Lusine MLKE-Galstyan.

Plus the latest BBC recordings and new releases. Presented by Tom Service.

Producer: Michael Rossi.

You can contact the show by emailing 3breakfast@bbc.co.uk. To listen on most smart speakers, just say 'Ask BBC Sounds to play 3 Breakfast'. SUN 09:00 Sunday Morning (m003093d) Two hours of classical sparkle This week, Sarah Walker's playlist takes in mythical spirits, Hollywood film composers and a 16th-century English musician who worked in Exeter. There's music from a new release from the stunning baroque ensemble La Serenissima, and this week's Choral Reflection comes from Trio Mediaeval with a modern take by Gavin Bryars on a 14th-century devotional hymn. Plus music by Rachmaninov, Mozart and a nod to the season from Max Richter... A Tandem Production for BBC Radio 3. SUN 11:00 BBC Proms (m003093g) 2026 Mozart's 'Haffner' Symphony Live at the BBC Proms: the Academy of St Martin in the Fields and Benjamin Marquise Gilmore, with Felix Klieser (horn) and Amy Harman (bassoon), perform music by Britten, Mozart, Thea Musgrave and Elgar. Presented by Linton Stephens, live from the Royal Albert Hall, London. Benjamin Britten: Simple Symphony Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart: Horn Concerto No. 3 in E flat major c.11.40 Interval: David Owen Norris joins Linton Stephens to explore Mozart and Elgar's love of wind instruments. c.12.00 Thea Musgrave: Bassoon Concerto, 'Out of the Darkness' (BBC commission, world premiere) Edward Elgar: Romance for bassoon and orchestra Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart: Symphony No. 35 in D major, 'Haffner' Felix Klieser (horn) Amy Harman (bassoon) Academy of St Martin in the Fields Benjamin Marquise Gilmore (director/leader)	The Academy of St Martin in the Fields spotlights the French horn and bassoon in two concertos: one classic, one contemporary. The ink is still wet on veteran Scottish composer Thea Musgrave's new Bassoon Concerto, 'Out of the Darkness', receiving its world premiere. Mozart's good-natured Horn Concerto No. 3 ends with a rollicking Allegro that's hard to resist. There are more dancing rhythms from Britten's playful Simple Symphony, based on themes written by the composer before the age of 12. SUN 13:30 Music Map (m0021bsq) A journey to Mozart's Clarinet Quintet Sara Mohr-Pietsch maps the musical terrain around Mozart's Clarinet Quintet, wandering down sonic avenues that link music across time and space. From Weber to Bernstein and Sidney Bechet, Sara charts a musical journey towards Mozart's clarinet classic. To listen to this programme (using most smart speakers), just say "Ask BBC Sounds to play Music Map". SUN 15:00 The Colours in Sound, with Caroline Shaw (m001w2nl) Inner Space and Outer Worlds Grammy-award winning composer Caroline Shaw takes us on a journey through orchestration - and the different colours in sound. She explores how composers use their paint brushes to draw light to hidden qualities within tones. This second episode looks at the concept of 'space' in music, through the lens of orchestration. The idea that through choosing different instruments or tone colours composers can evoke a sense of closeness in physical space - and also a great sense of cosmic vastness and of wonder. Featuring music from Mahler, Sibelius, Hildegard, and Holst. Produced by James Taylor An Overcoat Media production for BBC Radio 3 SUN 16:00 Jazz Record Requests (m003093k) Jazz For All Alyn Shipton features jazz music of all styles as selected by you, including music from Jelly Roll Morton, Mali Sheard and Pat Metheny alongside a tribute to the late Canadian pianist Oliver Jones. In recent years, Graham has conducted a number of first recordings of Palestrina's works, including the Missa Sine nomine with the Bevan Family Consort, and more recently, the Missa Emendemus in melius with the choir of Clare College Cambridge. Hannah and Graham also discuss how Palestrina can be placed in a historical context by hearing his music alongside works by some of the composer's English contemporaries, including Mundy and Byrd. Producer: Ben Collingwood. To listen to this programme using most smart speakers just say "Ask BBC Sounds to play The Early Music Show". SUN 18:00 Choral Evensong (m003038k) St Mary's Episcopal Cathedral, Edinburgh Live from St Mary's Episcopal Cathedral, Edinburgh, as part of the Edinburgh Festivals. SUN 19:00 New Generation Artists (m003093m) 2026 Proms season showcase - Julius Asal Georgia Mann introduces specially-recorded performances from some of Radio 3's current New Generation Artists. Today, German pianist, Julius Asal - the Academy of St Martin in the Fields Associate Artist - plays Rachmaninov in a concert recorded at the Church of St Peter and Saint Paul, Pickering, Yorkshire as part of the 2025 Ryedale Festival. Rachmaninov: Preludes from Op.32 - Nos. 1,6,8,10,11,12 and 13 Julius Asal (piano) Borodin: The Sleeping Princess - Spyashchaya Knyazhna Erika Baikoff (soprano), Sholto Kynoch (piano) For over a quarter of a century, Radio 3's prestigious talent scheme has provided an invaluable springboard for many of today's leading international soloists and chamber music ensembles. SUN 19:30 BBC Proms (m003093p) 2026 Capuçon Plays Dvořák's Cello Concerto Live at the BBC Proms: the BBC Symphony Orchestra conducted by Alain Altinoglu performs Varèse, Stravinsky, Debussy, and, with soloist Gautier Capuçon, Dvorak's Cello Concerto. Presented by Ian Skelly, live from the Royal Albert Hall, London Igor Stravinsky: Symphonies of Wind Instruments (1947 version) Antonín Dvořák: Cello Concerto in B minor c.8.25 Interval: The writer Philip Clark talks to Ian Skelly about the impact of the United States of America, and particularly the soundscape of New York, on the music of the French-born avant-garde composer Edgard Varèse. c.8.45 Claude Debussy: Prélude à l'après-midi d'un faune Edgard Varèse: Amériques Gautier Capuçon (cello) BBC Symphony Orchestra Alain Altinoglu (conductor) One hundred years since wailing siren, whip and wind machine announced the arrival of Varèse's Amériques in the concert hall, the Proms celebrates this exhilarating urban hymn to the composer's adopted home of New York City. Alain Altinoglu traces the vibrant dialogue between Europe and America, pairing music from the Old World and the New. The languorous sensuality of Debussy's Prélude à l'après-midi d'un faune contrasts with the clean architectural lines of Stravinsky's Symphonies of Wind Instruments – at once ancient and modern. Composed during his time in the USA, Dvořák's Cello Concerto is a nostalgic homage to his Bohemian roots. SUN 22:00 Night Tracks (m0029ptz) Blissful sounds for night owls Sara Mohr-Pietsch presents an adventurous, immersive soundtrack for late-night listening, from classical to contemporary and everything in between. SUN 23:30 Unclassified (m003093r) Floating, flying Elizabeth Alker soundtracks your late-summer night with a playlist of genre-defying music from today's most exciting makers. We'll hear from independent producers whose work plays with orchestral textures and classical form as well as the latest sounds from a new generation of contemporary composers who look to embrace the spirit of rock, pop and electronica. This week's picks include a haunting re-invention of the Scottish small pipes from Brighde Chaimbeul, a celestial choral piece by Donna McKevitt, and off-kilter pop inspired by the RPG 'King's Quest' from Frances Chang. Mahler's Das Lied von der Erde from the BBC Proms

Mark Forrest celebrates summer music-making in the UK and beyond.

All summer we're in residence at the Royal Albert Hall for highlights from the BBC Proms. Today, the sensational American mezzo soprano Jamie Barton and tenor Clay Hilley join the BBC Philharmonic Orchestra for Mahler's profound Das Lied von der Erde. From that same concert, Anja Bihlmaier conducts Haydn's Farewell Symphony, and we'll also hear renowned French organist Olivier Latry playing Bach on the Royal Albert Hall's magnificent organ in a Prom recorded earlier in the season. Away from South Kensington, Classical Live is visiting other summer festivals across the UK and Europe, and this week we're at Cheltenham Music Festival for music from our beloved Radio 3's New Generation Artists. Today, clarinettist Oleg Shebeta-Dragan plays Beethoven and violinist Hana Chang performs Mozart.

This weekday late-night show celebrates the thriving UK jazz scene and spotlights the best new music alongside incredible acts from past decades. Soweto's guest for 4/4 this week is master jazz-funk guitarist and keyboardist James Mason. He was a member of Roy Ayers' iconic Ubiquity band, and featured on the seminal 1977 album "Lifeline" which includes the funk and disco classic "Running Away". In that same year, James released his debut solo album, "Rhythm of Life". A jazz-funk gem, it was not until the 90s that the record's status was fully recognised, becoming a key dance floor selection in the acid jazz scene. James recently performed at We Out Here Festival and at The Jazz Cafe with his ensemble, presenting music from "Rhythm of Life" for the first time in over a decade. On 'Round Midnight from Monday to Thursday, James is sharing four of his best loved albums, and tonight he begins with a pick from one of jazz fusion's most influential groups. Chineke! plays Dvorak at the BBC Proms

Mark Forrest celebrates summer music-making in the UK and beyond.

All summer, we're in residence at the Royal Albert Hall for highlights from the BBC Proms. Today, the groundbreaking Chineke! Orchestra performs Dvorak's beloved Symphony No. 8, and superstar soprano Angel Blue joins the group for Barber's nostalgia-infused Knoxville: Summer of 1915. There's more from renowned French organist Olivier Latry as he puts the Royal Albert Hall's magnificent organ through its paces in music that Bach originally wrote for solo violin: the awe-inspiring Chaconne from the Partita in D minor. And we make a return trip to the elegant Pittville Pump Rooms to hear more from Radio 3's New Generation Artists at this year's Cheltenham Music Festival. Today, the Astatine Trio play music by Felix Mendelssohn and there's Prokofiev from violinist Hana Chang.

Bond and Beyond

Live at the BBC Proms: Daniel Bartholomew-Poyser conducts the BBC Concert Orchestra in music from the iconic spy thriller films.

Presented by Georgia Mann, live from the Royal Albert Hall, London.

No character in cinema history has a more instantly recognisable theme tune, or has inspired more classic pop songs, than James Bond. Daniel Bartholomew-Poyser conducts the BBC Concert Orchestra in a musical homage to Ian Fleming's suave spy. Together with special guests they train their sights on the greatest hits from Skyfall, The Spy Who Loved Me and others, promising to leave you stirred, not shaken.

Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue from the BBC Proms

Linton Stephens celebrates summer music-making in the UK and beyond.

All summer, we're in residence at the Royal Albert Hall for highlights from the BBC Proms. Today, we hear highlights from conductor Marin Alsop's America-themed Prom with the Philharmonia Orchestra, including Bernstein's Symphonic Dances from West Side Story and Gershwin's iconic Rhapsody in Blue. And there's more from the Proms: Britten's Simple Symphony performed by the Academy of St Martin in the Fields, and the BBC Symphony Orchestra playing Stravinsky's Symphony of Winds. Away from the Royal Albert Hall, we visit the Mozart Festival Würzburg, where pianist Severin von Eckardstein plays music by Prokofiev, and we return to this year's Cheltenham Music Festival to hear more from our Radio 3 New Generation Artists. Today, the clarinetist Oleg Shebeta-Dragan is joined by two former members of the scheme – pianist Dominic Degavino and cellist Leo Poplewell – in the Clarinet Trio by Brahms.

The Met Orchestra Plays Mahler

Live at the BBC Proms: The Met Orchestra under Yannick Nézet-Séguin performs Mahler, including his Rückert-Lieder with soprano Joyce diDonato and the Fourth Symphony.

Presented by Martin Handley, live from the Royal Albert Hall.

Kaija Saariaho: Lumière et pesantour
Gustav Mahler: Rückert-Lieder)

c.7.30pm

Interval: The writer Emily MacGregor talks to Martin Handley about Gustav Mahler's life and legacy in the USA, and how he raised the status of New York above Boston when, as a world-famous conductor, he performed both at the Met and with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

c.7.50pm

Gustav Mahler: Symphony No. 4 in G major

Star mezzo-soprano and former Last Night of the Proms soloist Joyce DiDonato joins Yannick Nézet-Séguin and The Met Orchestra for their second concert of the season. Mahler is in the spotlight celebrating the wonder of nature, innocence and faith in his Symphony No. 4 – lively with birdsong and sleigh bells – and looking beyond in the contemplative meditations – on life, death and transcendence – of his Rückert-Lieder. The same spirit runs through the swelling, breathing orchestral arcs of the late Kaija Saariaho's Lumière et pesanteur ('Light and Gravity') – luminous music adapted from the composer's oratorio La Passion de Simone.

And following the Prom, 'Light and Loss', a special concert by the BBC Singers and curated and conducted by award-winning German conductor Alexander Lüken. At the heart of the programme are sublime sacred works by Brahms and Mahler. These are contrasted with a contemporary choral cycle by Stefan Heucke that sets texts from a range of writers from Nietzsche to the German-Swedish poet and playwright Nelly Sachs. A lush late-Romantic requiem by Sigfrid Karg-Elert and a tranquil work by Wilhelm Berger transporting us to a chapel on a beach completes this distinctive programme.

Presented by Georgia Mann and recorded at St Paul's Knightsbridge, London on 15 January 2026.

Stefan Heucke: Der Verborgene Gott
Brahms: Warum ist das Licht gegeben dem Mühseligen?

Grammy-nominated Dutch-Turkish band Altın Gün brings its unique blend of psychedelic folk-rock to the BBC Proms for the first time, drawing on its recent Anatolian rock album Garip ('Strange'), a tribute to the great Turkish folk musician Neşet Ertaş. The band joins forces with special guest Derya Yıldırım, Jules Buckley and the BBC Symphony Orchestra to turn cool riffs and Anatolian folk textures into rich orchestral colours.

Ibrahim Alfa Jnr. mixtape

Verity Sharp shares a spellbinding mix from prolific British techno producer Ibrahim Alfa Jnr., fresh from the release of his new album Infinite Black Inside, a piece of work that showcases the vastness of his musical influences, from soul to jazz, from dub to minimalism.

Born in Brighton, Ibrahim started making music in the late '90s, releasing his first techno record at the age of eighteen. Since then, he has never stopped producing music, including during a recent period of forced isolation while recovering from a pulmonary embolism and two heart attacks. His new album brings together some of the over 500 tracks recorded during that time.

Elsewhere in the show, a new single from the forthcoming album of Vanishing Twin, plus hypnotising improvisations from saxophonist Tamar Osborn.

FRI 23:30 'Round Midnight (m002hls5)

Norma Winstone in conversation

'Round Midnight is presented by award-winning saxophonist Soweto Kinch. This weekday late-night show celebrates the thriving UK jazz scene and spotlights the best new music alongside incredible acts from past decades.

This Friday night, Soweto is joined by special guest, pioneering British vocalist and lyricist Norma Winstone. Over the past five decades and counting, Norma has been a leading figure in UK jazz, and is internationally celebrated for her expansive and versatile vocal style, which often offers a masterclass in improvisation.

She has worked with peers and fellow jazz legends including Kenny Wheeler, Michael Garrick, and John Taylor, and has inspired musicians from across the generations. Her latest project, a duo album with pianist Kit Downes titled Outposts of Dreams is out now.

In this conversation, Soweto and Norma discuss everything from the breadth of creativity and comradeship found in the late 1960s and 70s jazz scene, her early influences, the importance of musical freedom and exploration, and more.
